Whittemore Returned to His Confiding Constituents.

The Bill to Abolish the Franking Privilege Killed in the Senate.

General Amnesty Bill Reported in the House.

The Funding Bill Reported Back from the Ways and Means Committee.

Progress Being Made on the Appropriation Bills.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

WHITTEMORE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—Whittemore got to-day without the trouble of resigning. ... which, in a word, was that the man who had been declared by the House guilty of a ... offence shall properly be excluded. ... the previous question upon a preamble setting forth the character of the offence and severity of the House thereon, and a resolution excluding Whittemore and directing the return of his credentials to the Governor of South Carolina. ... the previous question was sustained by 95 to 81, ... that it was his constitutional right to be sworn, even if the House exercised its constitutional right of expelling him immediately afterward, upon the direct vote of exclusion, the yeas were 137; nays, 24. The following voted negative: Arnell, Ayer, Ball (Mass.), ... Cessna, Cobb (N. C.), Coburn, ... Farnsworth, Hoar, Jenckes, Kelly, Knapp, Maynard, ... Sawyer, ... Taffe, Taylor, Twitchell, Whittemore (Texas). The Democrats had made a previous agreement not to vote, but some of them, at the last moment, decided not to adhere to it. The following Republicans were in their seats, but declined to vote: ... Dawes, Dickey, Dixon, Hooper (Mass.), ... McCormack (Pa.), Paine, Pearce (Miss.), Schenck, Van Horn, and Wheeler. Scarcely a member spoke to Whittemore during the two hours he was in the hall, and when the vote was declared, he left without a word from any one.

FRANKING BILL.

The Franking bill went overboard in the Senate to-day, by two majority, and immediately thereafter a delegation of its supporters and its opponents went across to Whitney's corner to mingle their tears over its untimely taking off. The proceedings in the Senate on this measure constitute the broadest farce of the season. There are not more than a dozen Senators of the body who think it would be wise to abolish the franking privilege, and the principal ... giving votes ... The game was a nice one, and it took five days to play it out; but the majority has never intended to give up the franking if the way could be devised ... Governor Ramsey, of course, will call up the House bill again, before the end of the session; but the Senate will laugh at him, and he will take the defeat with all the cheerful resignation of a philosopher.

FINANCIAL BILLS.

The financial bills were considered in committee this morning. The Ways and Means reported the Funding bill without important amendment, so that it will come up next week in about such form as it has heretofore been published.

CURRENCY BILLS.

The two Currency bills were talked over in Sherman's committee. They couldn't do anything with the one sent over from the House, and accordingly asked a conference, which was granted. The question at issue is now ... where the Treasury wants it, and from all the propositions so much debated in one branch or the other, a pretty fair bill may, perhaps, be obtained in the course of next week.

APPROPRIATION BILLS.

The Appropriation bills made fair progress today. The Senate put the knife into Ramsey's franking amendment, and then passed the Post Office bill with only one or two changes. Morrill at once called up the Diplomatic bill, and that went through in less than an hour, the most important change in it being that the salary of the Minister to Japan was raised from $7,500 to $10,000. The Naval bill was somewhat debated, but not finished. The House had the Omnibus bill on hand, and got through about a quarter of it before adjourning.

PAVING PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE.

... for the new pavement on Pennsylvania avenue ... of the Interior, General ... and Major ... to select the kind of material, and see that the work is done. The expense is to be borne by the property holders, the government bearing its share with others. The probabilities are that we shall have good pavement down by next December.

CABLE BILL.

The Belgium Cable bill will get a favorable report from the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It asks no aid from government, but simply wants the privilege of landing. The corporators are Robert Symms, Lyman Tremain, Erastus Corning, Jr., Isaiah Blood, Hiram Barney, Geo. W. Riggs, Wm. C. Barney, Geo. Harrington, and others.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH.

The Special Committee of the House on the postal telegraph project is giving a hearing this evening to Gardiner Hubbard in its favor. Washburne wants to report his bill this session, but has already given notice in the House that he will not act on it till next December.

[To the Associated Press.]

THE GENERAL AMNESTY BILL.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The bill reported to-day by Mr. Butler, from the Committee on Reconstruction, provides for full and general grace, amnesty and oblivion of certain wrongful acts, doings or omissions of all persons engaged in the war of the rebellion ... on the 13th of April, 1861, and 30th of August, 1866, with the full restoration of all rights and privileges ... thereby and therein. ...

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, June 21.

SENATE.

THE CURRENCY BILL.

Mr. SHERMAN, from the Finance Committee, reported that the committee unanimously recommended concurrence with the amendments of the House to the Senate Currency bill and the appointment of a committee of conference.

The House bill to pave Pennsylvania avenue passed.

THE AMENDATORY REVENUE BILL.

Mr. SHERMAN, from the Finance Committee, ...

... OCEAN CABLE.

Mr. BAYARD presented a memorial from Wm. F. Smith, President of the International Ocean Telegraph Company, proposing, for $100,000 a year paid by the United States for twenty years, to establish and maintain international telegraph cables from San Francisco to Japan, and a third from the United States to Europe, conditional upon never consolidating with any existing trans-Atlantic cable, and never charging more than $1 in gold for each message of ten words. Referred.

THE TAX AND TARIFF BILL.

The House Tax and Tariff bill was made the special order as soon as the Consular Appropriation bill is disposed of.

POST OFFICE APPROPRIATION BILL.

The Senate took up the Post Office Appropriation bill.

Mr. TRUMBULL'S amendment, limiting the franking privilege hereafter to departments, was rejected ... to 30.

Mr. RAMSEY'S proposition to repeal the franking privilege was amended by prohibiting any allowance for stamps or increased pay to Senators or Representatives in Congress, in consequence of the franking privilege.

Mr. Ramsey's amendment was then rejected—26 to 28.

... [division list illegible] ...

DIPLOMATIC APPROPRIATION BILL.

The Senate then proceeded with the consideration of the Consular and Diplomatic bill.

Amendments reported by the Committee on Appropriations were adopted.

Mr. SUMNER, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, ...

The bill was then reported to the Senate.

NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

The Senate, in Committee of the Whole, took up the Naval Appropriation bill. Among the amendments reported from the Committee on Appropriations and agreed to were the following: Ordnance Department—Increasing appropriations for 15-inch guns, $140,000; for gunpowder, $60,000; for labor at navy yards, $300,000. In the Bureau of Construction and Repair—For labor in navy yards ... In the Bureau of Steam Engineering—For repairs of machinery, tools, labor, &c., $125,000.

The amendment striking out the proviso that, in the payment of funeral expenses, no distinction shall be made between officers of the line and staff, was agreed to.

Mr. DRAKE, from the Naval Committee, reported amendments revising the entire pay list for the navy; regulating promotion of officers, &c.

TAX AND TARIFF BILL.

At 5 o'clock the bill was laid aside, and the Tax and Tariff bill taken up, when the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

AMNESTY BILL.

Mr. BUTLER (Mass.), from the Reconstruction Committee, reported the bill for a full and general grace, amnesty and oblivion of wrongful acts, doings and omissions of all persons engaged in the war of the rebellion. Ordered printed and recommitted.

FUNDING BILL.

Mr. SCHENCK reported back the Funding bill with one slight verbal amendment, and asked that it be made the special order of the House for next Monday.

Mr. RANDALL objected, and Mr. SCHENCK withdrew it, saying that he would take the chances of its being made the special order in the House next Monday, under a suspension of the rules.

DONATION OF CANNON.

Mr. UPSON introduced a joint resolution donating four condemned cannon to the Willoughby (Ohio) Soldiers' Monumental Association. Passed.

MASSACHUSETTS WAR CLAIM.

Among the bills reported was one by Mr. ELA ... due by the United States to the State of Massachusetts for interest on expenditures during the war of 1812; that one-third of it shall be paid ... and the claim of Sixth States has been assigned to the European & North American Railroad Company, and directing that certificates be issued for the same to that company.

BRIDGE BILL.

Mr. PALMER, from the Pacific Railroad Committee, reported a bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Missouri River at or near Council Bluffs, by the Nebraska & Missouri River Railroad. ...

Mr. STILES objected, but subsequently withdrew his objection, when Mr. WELLS renewed it, alleging as his reason that the span provided for between the piers is too narrow.

BILLS REPORTED.

Mr. STOUGHTON, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported an act to incorporate the society of the Committee of the Cumberland. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. WASHBURN reported an act to pay loyal citizens in States lately in rebellion for their services in taking the eighth census. Passed.

WHITTEMORE'S CASE.

Mr. LOGAN offered a resolution reciting the action of the Committee on Military Affairs, and the House, in reporting a resolution censuring Whittemore, ... and excluding him ... and directing his credentials to be returned to him.

After discussion, Mr. POLAND endeavored to obtain a reference of the credentials to the Judiciary Committee, but Mr. LOGAN declined to accept such resolution, and moved the previous question, under the operation of which his resolution was adopted, 131 to 24. The nays were: ...

MISCELLANEOUS APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House then went into committee on the Sundry Civil Expenses bill.

Mr. DAWES, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, deemed this a proper occasion, it being the last work of the committee this session, to make some remarks in regard to public expenditures. He reminded the House of the remarks made by himself, in the early part of the session, comparing the estimates for the next year with the estimates of the last Administration for the present year, and showing that the balance was alarmingly against the former. ... The committee had reported appropriations amounting to $141,753,558, being a reduction of $12,345,236 ... The appropriations for the present year, including permanent appropriations, were $297,173,925, being $19,201,356 more than the appropriations recommended for the next fiscal year.

The House then proceeded to consider the bill in detail. It appropriates $11,773,150, including the following items: Supervising inspectors of steam vessels, $117,390; life-saving stations, $25,800; revenue cutter service, $1,231,450; loans and treasury notes, $900,000; expenses of public lands, $32,500; expenses of collection of the revenue from sales of public lands, $1,051,000; metropolitan police, District of Columbia, $211,000; government hospital for the insane, $150,000; deaf and dumb institution, $40,775; Columbia Hospital and Lying-in Asylum, $15,000; Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan Home, $27,000; Smithsonian Institution, $93,000; Botanic Garden, $14,600; public buildings under the Treasury Department, $3,041,000. (This includes $500,000 for the New York Post Office, $250,000 for the Boston Post Office, and $500,000 for the San Francisco Mint.) Lighthouses, etc., $1,309,000; armories and arsenals, $400,000; surveys of Northern and Northwestern rivers, $200,000; continuing the construction of the Rock Island bridge, $500,000; public works in and around Washington, $142,000; Washington aqueduct, $144,000; navy yards and naval stations, $4,845; public buildings in Washington, $1,885; light-house establishment, $1,431,000; coast survey, $643,000; surveying public lands, $402,000; miscellaneous matters, $275,000; expenses in United States Courts, $1,900,000.

Mr. CHURCHILL offered an amendment repealing the law which requires cutters on the lakes to be laid up, and authorizing their employment for life-saving purposes on the lakes.

After discussion the amendment was rejected.

Mr. BEAMAN moved to strike out the item of $94,887 for the completion of the main central building for the Columbia Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. This gave rise to a long discussion, in which Messrs. BUTLER and DAWES, of Massachusetts, took prominent parts,—the former condemning the extravagance of the appropriation, declaring that it would cost $15,000 to educate each deaf and dumb pupil. He ridiculed the attempt to show that they can do what God Almighty never intended they should do. ...

ADJOURNMENT.

Without disposing of the question, the committee rose and the House adjourned.

NEW YORK.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

THE LATE MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Many of the unpaid chorus singers and orchestra performers in the Beethoven Centennial are preparing to bring suits against the manager. The latter promises to pay all bills, provided they are not too severely pressed for the next few days. It is understood to-night that the whole loss by the festival exceeds $40,000.

THREE PERSONS DROWNED.

A sail-boat was upset to-day, in the lower bay, drowning three persons. Several collisions were caused in the harbor by high wind, but no lives were lost.

THE DISSATISFIED ERIE STOCKHOLDERS.

The English and other dissatisfied stockholders of the Erie Railway are preparing for another grand raid against Fisk and Gould. The prominent leaders in the movement had a dinner last night at the Union Club House, where they considered their plan of operations. Their scheme is not fully developed, but it is understood that they will make their attack in the next term of the Superior Court, and will charge general mismanagement of the company's affairs and illegal action at the recent elections. Fisk is serene, and says he cannot be injured.

WALL STREET.

Wall street was somewhat excited to-day over despatches from Washington about the nonconcurrence of the Senate Finance Committee in the Funding bill reported from the House. The great feature of the stock market was Ohio & Mississippi, of which fifty thousand shares were sold. One banker sold eleven thousand shares, and another six thousand. Further heavy operations in Ohio & Mississippi are expected to-morrow.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

The Cooper Institute was crowded to-night, at the reception of the National Division of the Sons of Temperance. Delegates were present from all the States of the Union, with the exception of North Carolina and Tennessee. Thomas Edgerly, one of the sixteen founders of the institution, in 1842, made a short speech.

SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF GAMBLING.

The Society for the Prevention of Gambling is in trouble. Its President, W. W. West, has been arrested for swindling, and it is charged that he was formerly a policy and lottery dealer, and started the society for the purpose of blackmailing, and obtained its charter under false pretenses of morality.

PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Henry Bergh has received official notice that the Rhode Island Legislature has incorporated an association similar to the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and also that a similar society has been organized in Quebec.

FOREIGN RECRUITS.

Nearly 500 immigrants, who just arrived from Europe, have entered the United States army in this city during the past few days. The greater part of them went to Governor's Island. They were mostly Germans and Irish.

THE ERIE RAILWAY COMPANY MULCTED.

... The suit of Daniel Lyons against the Erie Railway Company, to recover $20,000 for personal injuries sustained by the Carrs Rock disaster, has been concluded by a verdict for the plaintiff of $6,500.

END OF THE CIGAR-MAKERS' STRIKE.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The strike of the cigar-makers, which commenced in December, has terminated. The Cigar-Makers' Union to-night authorized the Executive Committee to make the best terms possible with the employers.

WINNIPEG.

Opposition to the Red River Expedition—Letter From Riel's Secretary of State to Father Richot—Delegate to the Canadian Government.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 21.—The Press has a letter from Pembina which says that, in case the Canadian Red River expedition continues to move westward, Riel's Provisional Government will send an armed force to meet it. In this contingency, independence of Canada will probably be declared.

The Press correspondent sends the following official instructions to Father Richot, one of Riel's delegates to the government at Ottawa:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of three despatches from you, making mention of an act sanctioned, and an expedition being sent to this country. In reference to the act I beg to state that the Provisional Government has not up to this date, any official knowledge of its nature or intent, and consequently, cannot say whether it is acceptable or not; but as regards the expedition, I am viewed with very much misgiving ... and cannot be acceptable to any portion of this people. First, the government and people of this country cannot view this expedition in any other light than was the approach of Mr. McDougall as Lieutenant Governor in November last, and in view of the peaceful condition of the Northwest since the evil spirits left the country, both among the various classes of people, and with ... and the evident intention of entering into the Confederation on satisfactory conditions by the fact of you and your co-delegates being in Ottawa, we deem the expedition as entirely unnecessary, and believe it intended to prevent the people to accept the conditions dictated by the Canadian Government, which cannot be effected without violating the act of 1867, in reference to the British Colonies entering into confederation. What right has Canada to send an army to this country, to invade the rights of British colonists, as they are themselves? Against this we strongly protest. Secondly, the Canadian Volunteers are repugnant to every interest and measure of this people, and, instead of securing peace, we are confident will destroy it, as well as the hope of an amicable adjustment of our late difficulties. We also protest, because they can neither be beneficial to the Confederation, or necessary to the colonial or imperial authority in this country, and will be a source of irritation and needless expense to Canada. We sincerely hope that all will be arranged for the present and future prosperity of Manitoba, and desiring the speedy and safe return of yourself and co-delegates, I have the honor to be your obedient servant,

(Signed) L. SCHMIDT,

Assistant Secretary of State.

Proceedings in the British Parliament.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 21.—The Bishop of Manchester delivered an address last evening to the Educational Aid Society of Manchester, on the educational bill. He approved generally of the new bill ...

LONDON, June 21.—A terrible disaster occurred this afternoon on the Great Northern Railway. A large excursion train was run into by a freight train, ... Thirteen persons were killed ...

The ceremonies of Commemoration Day were held at Oxford University yesterday. ... of Salisbury, Chancellor of the University, conferred the degrees. Hon. Jno. Evelyn Denison, Speaker of the House of Commons, received an honorary degree.

A meeting was held last night to promote Christian unity. Lord Ebury occupied the chair. ... and appropriate resolutions adopted.

The differences between the Scotch iron-workers and their workmen are in a fair way to be adjusted.

LONDON, June 21.—In the Lords, last night, Earl Russell moved that a commission be appointed to inquire into the means whereby the union between England and the colonies may be perpetuated. ...

Earl Grey spoke in support of the motion for inquiry. Without action the House adjourned.

LONDON, June 21.—In the Commons, last night, the Postmaster General promised an early increase of facilities for telegraphic communication with Ireland. Additional cables will be laid, and improved connections established.

Mr. Forster, in reply to a question of Mr. Playfair, said school accommodations would be provided as soon as the Education bill passed.

Mr. Dennison, Speaker of the House, after complimentary speeches from Disraeli and Gladstone, had leave to attend the commemoration to-day, at Oxford University, to receive an honorary degree.

The House then went into committee on the Elementary Education bill. ...

Mr. Gladstone said the government could not consent to the introduction of such a measure. He considered it ill-advised and gratuitous attack on the constitution.

The House divided, and leave to introduce was refused by 158 to 138.

... LONDON, June 21.—Whitham's extensive cotton factory in Bolton was totally destroyed by fire to-night. A large number of hands are thrown out of employment.

LONDON, June 21.—The committee of the Commons, in the investigation of the diplomatic service of Great Britain, were to-day informed by Lord Clarendon that the government had reason to believe that the United States intended to raise its mission to England to one of the first rank, and that such a step would be reciprocated by the establishment of an embassy at Washington, in lieu of the present legation.

The News says the Canadian agent, reported to be on his way to England for the purpose of creating ill-feeling against the United States Government, on account of the late Fenian raid, is on a fool's errand.

Vice-Admiral Sir Robert Spencer Robinson, Controller of the Navy, and Edward J. Reed, Chief Naval Constructor, have resigned.

The Standard thinks an upward movement in the money market probable before September.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 21.—In the Corps Legislatif, M. Marey-Monge opened the interpellation in regard to the St. Gothard Railway. The Duke of Grammont, Minister of Foreign Affairs, replied that no interests of France, either political or commercial, were menaced by the construction of the St. Gothard Railway, as the Government of Switzerland had promised the French Foreign Office, as early as 1866, that in certain contingencies the railway should be destroyed. The French Government would pursue such a course as seemed in accordance with its interests in regard to the Simplon. It would not refuse needed subsidies for the population of the northern and western provinces, but a simple railway project required larger sums than the ends to which it was directed seem to justify the government in expending.

Deputy Estancelin spoke in favor of a subsidy for the Simplon route.

Pinchon, Minister of Public Works, opposed.

General Leboeuf, Minister of War, said the Government of Switzerland would maintain her own neutrality and the neutrality of the International Railway, and in the event of war she would receive assistance from France, if necessary.

Several Deputies of the Left censured the government for not interfering at the negotiation of the treaty of Berne.

Deputy Ferry said, "The majority is responsible for Sadowa."

He was called to order by the President, but continued to speak in censure of the course of the government in asserting that Switzerland was not inviolable. This had been shown at the time of the French Revolution, and in 1815, when Swiss neutrality was proved to be a mere myth.

PARIS, June 21.—The Emperor's condition is much improved. He suffers little pain now from the gout, and the swelling of his foot has subsided. The Emperor and Court went to St. Cloud this afternoon.

Prevost Paradol, the new Minister to the United States, is exceedingly popular among Americans here, who are giving rounds of entertainments in his honor.

LONDON, June 21.—Letters from Paris generally represent that France will not push her claims for control in the St. Gothard Railroad, and will assume a passive attitude.

PARIS, June 21.—The International Society of Workingmen has issued a manifesto declaring that their meetings have been public, and that all their resolutions adopted by the society have been published in its recognized organ. This manifesto is issued on account of the approaching trials of members of the society for alleged connection with the conspiracy against the empire.

The Minister of Fine Arts to-day distributed the prizes to artists whose paintings have been on exhibition at the Palais d'Industrie.

BELGIUM.

LONDON, June 21.—Advices are received giving the details of a conflict of authority at Verviers, a town of Belgium, near Liege. The police and militia had been called upon to suppress a disorder, when, becoming jealous of each other's authority, they began fighting among themselves. The police, being cornered, were quickly driven off, many of them badly hurt.

SPAIN.

MADRID, June 21.—Senor Castellar delivered a brilliant speech in the Cortes, to-day, in favor of the immediate abolition of slavery in the colonies. The Carlists deny that they intend to issue a manifesto.

PORTUGAL.

LISBON, June 21.—The King officially received the new American Minister a few days ago. The usual friendly speeches were made.

On Sunday, a monster demonstration was made here in favor of General Saldanha. Twelve thousand people were present.

ITALY.

ROME, June 21.— ... fathers to be adopted from among the active champions of infallibility.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, June 21.—The elections for the Diet are in progress. ... The Liberal party is gaining in the provinces.

GREECE.

LONDON, June 21.—Despatches from Athens announce the execution of five more of the Marathon brigands.

WISCONSIN.

Annual Convention of Wisconsin Editors at Prairie du Chien—A Grand Excursion.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., June 21.—The annual convention of Wisconsin editors was held here to-day. ...

... of the State from Kenosha in the southeast to Polk County in the northwest ... The town of Prairie du Chien, where civilization was introduced about the same time as at Philadelphia, ...

Committees to nominate officers, on resolutions, etc., were appointed, and Green Bay fixed as a place of meeting.

Correspondence was read from Hon. Mr. Atwood, Treasurer of the association, new member of Congress, O. Wendell Holmes, and others, and the convention adjourned to evening.

This afternoon the members enjoyed a delightful steamboat excursion on the river to McGregor, the mouth of the Wisconsin, and up the long river front of Prairie du Chien. To-night officers are to be elected, the annual address and poem delivered, and other business, after which the members will go down the river on the steamer Minneapolis. All is promising of a delightful time. It is now probable that the association will extend the excursion to Sioux City.

ILLINOIS.

Secret Combinations Against the New Constitution—Competition for the State Printing—Railroad Items—Political.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

SPRINGFIELD, June 21.—It is full time that the friends of the proposed new constitution should wake up from their seeming indifference, and use their wits and influence for its adoption by the people. I am led to this conclusion from the information received at the executive office of secret and powerful combinations between parties of all political shades and classes, some because their pecuniary interests would be very materially damaged by its adoption, and others who, in order to maintain their influence with the unwashed, ignorant Democracy, denounce the proposed constitution because the word "white" has been stricken out of the ... This argument is particularly effective in Southern Illinois, and is used, and will continue to be used, very successfully, as the vote in that section of the State on the 2d day of July will show. ...

... An ordinance was last night proposed by the City Council authorizing an election on the 9th of July, for ... a subscription, by the city, of $50,000, in aid of the Springfield & St. Louis Railroad, ...

On the 9th of July the voters of Springfield township will vote for, or against, a subscription of $50,000 in aid of the Springfield and Northwestern Railroad.

The weather is still clear and warm. No sign of rain.

Cornel Merriam, of Tazewell, is not a candidate for nomination as Congressman from this district. This leaves the field open to Cullom.

Painful Railroad Accident at Peoria—Fatal Affray.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

PEORIA, Ill., June 21.—A horrible accident happened to a little girl named Alvina Prange, last night. In attempting to ride on a switch engine she in some manner, but exactly how cannot be ascertained, slipped and fell under the engine, which, with several cars attached, passed over her body, crushing both legs off, cutting the body in several places. It was necessary to pry them up before extricating the unfortunate victim. It is thought to be impossible for the girl to live.

A serious and fatal affray happened in the Sixth Ward last Saturday night. A party of Irish were drinking and carousing, when an altercation arose between one Garbey and a Mrs. McMahon about a bucket of water. The two parties were pulling at the bucket, when another around, when they, with others who had joined in the disturbance, fell down the cellar stairs, eight feet. Here the two men hurt themselves. It is supposed, commenced beating Garbey and Mrs. McMahon, who were rendered insensible by the fall. Finally the fight was quelled, but Mrs. McMahon had received such internal injuries that she died last night, and Garbey has delivered himself up to the authorities.

Criminal Trials in the Circuit Court at Ottawa.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

OTTAWA, Ill., June 21.—The Circuit Court began criminal trials on Monday. Neil M. Cowan, alias John O'Neill, has been on trial until this evening for burglary last fall. Together with some accomplices he robbed a clothing store, also a jewelry store at Marseilles, and not only some of the clothing was found on his person when arrested, but the officer caught him in the act of trying to swallow some rings stolen from the jeweler's. After a two days trial he was found guilty this evening, and sent to Joliet for seven years.

Annual Examination at the Normal University.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

NORMAL, Ill., June 21.—The examination at the Normal University continued to-day. The building and halls were crowded with visitors. The State Board of Education will meet to-morrow, when the finances of the institution will be examined. The graduating class of 1870 consists of thirty-one members, being more than in any previous year.

Personal—Population of Jacksonville—Corner Stone Celebration—Crop Prospects.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

JACKSONVILLE, June 21.—To-day H. J. Atkins, member of the late Constitutional Convention from this county, left for the seaside, for the benefit of his health, which is very poor and declining.

The population of Jacksonville, according to the enumeration just completed by the United States census taker, is 9,005.

This afternoon the corner-stone of a new church edifice, to be erected for the Second Presbyterian Church of this city, was laid with imposing and highly interesting ceremonies, in the presence of a large concourse of citizens. The edifice will cost $60,000, and will be a handsome structure.

The prospects for heavy crops in Morgan County are very fine.

THE WEST.

Wood-Choppers Attacked by Indians Near Fort Union—The Savages Reported as Growing Very Bold and Troublesome.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, June 21.—By the arrival of the steamboat Emilie Labarge, from Fort Benton, news is brought that on the 19th inst., wood-choppers at work one and a half miles from Fort Union, at the mouth of the Yellowstone, were attacked by a war party of Uncpapa Indians, and several severely wounded, including John Gwinn, of St. Paul, in the hip and forehead; Patrick Doyle, of St. Paul, left arm; John Bacon, right thigh, with arrow and ball. A man named Little received several wounds, which will probably prove fatal. The wood-choppers killed one Indian, and two companies of the Thirteenth and Seventeenth Regiments, under command of Lieutenant Townsend, followed up and killed another and wounded several.

The Indians are reported to be acting very bold by coming close to the forts, and some trouble from raiding parties is anticipated.

Charles Reeder, from St. Louis, in a difficulty with John Griffin, formerly from Clearfield County, Pa., at Painted Wood, ninety miles above Fort Rice, was killed by the latter on the 10th instant. Griffin was arrested and brought to Yankton on the Labarge yesterday, and lodged in jail for trial.

Shipment of Texas Cattle—Railroad Progress.

FREMONT, Neb., June 21.—The first lot of Texas cattle shipped East by the Union Pacific and Burlington & Missouri Railroads, are now being crossed at this place. Another lot of 1,000 head will be in to-morrow.

Work has been resumed by a large force on the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Railroad. Fifty miles will be built immediately.

On the 4th of July will take place, in this city, a grand exhibition of fast horses, under the auspices of the Richland County Agricultural Society. Liberal premiums are offered for pacing, trotting, and running. The track, which is one of the finest in the country, is in superb condition.

Meeting of Railroad Freight Agents in Cincinnati—Change of Rates on Eastward Bound Freights—The Late Saengerfest.

CINCINNATI, June 21.—For some time past the rates for freights from Louisville and other points to Eastern cities have become somewhat demoralized. To-day a meeting was held of the General Freight Agents of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, Ohio & Mississippi, Little Miami, Pan-Handle, Cincinnati & St. Louis, Baltimore & Ohio, Indianapolis, Cincinnati & Lafayette, Illinois Central, Jeffersonville, Madison & Indianapolis, Louisville and Crawfordsville, and Lexington Railroads, at which freights to New York by rail were arranged on fourth-class as follows: From Cincinnati, 45 cents; Louisville, New Albany, Evansville, to Cairo, 55 cents; lower Ohio points, Nashville or Clarksville, 65 cents. The new tariff is to go into operation July 1, 1870.

The weather has been very warm the past two days.

The last delegates to the Saengerfest left to-day. The decorations are disappearing. The festival was a success in all respects. ...

Railroad Discrimination Against Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, June 21.—The Committee on Transportation of the Chamber of Commerce have been investigating the charges of discriminating against Cincinnati on certain railroads, ... and recommends Cincinnati merchants to look in other directions until a change occurs.

A Conundrum Explained.

From the New York Nation.

The economical arguments for the annexation of San Domingo are that commerce with the island will be immense, and go far toward restoring our lost mercantile marine; but if the President will ask Mr. Greeley, he will tell him that commerce with the island is a curse which ought to be prevented by heavy penalties, as it brings in either luxuries which we do not need or commodities which we can or ought to produce ourselves. He says, too, "it will give us those articles which we consume and do not produce, thus [illegible] our imports and exports," which Mr. Greeley's keen eye will recognize as an identical proposition; that annexation will draw thousands of laborers from the adjacent islands, especially slaves from Cuba, and San Domingo will thus become a large consumer of the products of Northern farms and manufactories, and its production of sugar, coffee, tobacco, and tropical fruits will be enormous, "and cut off more than $100,000,000 of our annual imports, besides largely increasing our exports." "With such a picture," the President adds, "it is easy to see how our large debt abroad is ultimately to be extinguished." We confess that at this point we became ourselves a little confused, but, looking into our family copy of Mr. Greeley's great work on political economy, we found, we think, the key to the puzzle. Foreign imports are a great curse and evil, if the place from which they come is called foreign; but if it is called American, they are a great gain. If you buy sugar from a citizen of San Domingo you lose on the transaction; if you hoist the United States flag on his house, and call him a citizen of the State of Dominica, and then buy sugar from him, you make money by it. If San Domingo sends Massachusetts $200,000 a year of tropical products in return for $100,000 worth of shoes, it is a dead loss of $100,000 to Massachusetts; if the State of Dominica sends $100,000,000 worth of the same commodities to the State of Massachusetts for $80,000,000 worth of shoes, there remains, somehow, a balance of $20,000,000 for the payment of "our large debt abroad." How this comes to be—why the money should be disposable for the payment of the foreigner in the one case and not in the other, we do not know; we do not believe anybody knows. No doubt good government will greatly increase production and population in San Domingo, but if the population increase, as the President says it will, under annexation, and we have to supply the government, and the civil service is not reformed, and the morals of politicians are not improved, the island will be a hot-bed of other things than bananas, and sugar, and coffee.

A Jersey "Enoch Arden" Case.

From the New York Herald, June 19.

A very peculiar case, a la "Enoch Arden," came to light in Newark, N. J., yesterday. In the afternoon a respectable looking woman called at the station house and stated that some five years ago her husband, Jeremiah Mulquin, disappeared in a very strange manner. They had lived happily together, and nothing could induce her to believe that his absence was of his own free will and accord. Finally, after waiting until all hope of his return had fled, she was advised by her friends that as it was more than probable that he had met with some accident and lost his life it would be best for her to take advantage of the first good chance that offered in the matrimonial line. In due course of time the good chance came and was duly seized by the aggrieved widow. She soon learned to disprove the popular theory that a woman can only really love once. If anything, she was fonder of her new lord than the lamented Mulquin. Four years and a half passed away when suddenly who should drop in on the "relict" and her second husband but "dear Jerry" himself. There was no row, no rumpus, but matters were taken quietly, and the best made of the worst. Jerry took his wife away, and the "Philip" of the case went his way quite resigned. After living together but two weeks, Jerry a second time disappeared, in a manner equally as mysterious as before. This time the deserted wife began to "smell a mice," and, after a great deal of searching, she ascertained that her bosom lord had actually married [illegible]

MONETARY.

TUESDAY EVENING, June 21.

The New York Financial Chronicle draws [illegible]

COMMERCIAL.

TUESDAY EVENING, June 21.

The following table shows the receipts and shipments of produce at this point during the past twenty-four hours:

[illegible]

The following grain has been received up to 10 o'clock this morning: 243 cars wheat, 273 cars and 46,500 bu corn, 41 cars oats, 10 cars rye, 5 cars barley. Total (572 cars) 237,000 bu.

Withdrawn yesterday for city consumption, 1,468 bu wheat, 5,976 bu corn, 2,944 bu oats, 1,355 bu rye, 431 bu barley.

There was a large attendance on 'Change to-day, and a very steady set of markets, with less doing, and a general tendency to easier prices, though without any well marked decline. The markets all seemed to be in that stand-still condition which precedes a storm in one direction or the other, both buyers and sellers seeming afraid to venture too far. All closed quite firm at the highest prices of the session on the leading cereals.

Highwines were more active, but weak, breaking badly under numerous offerings. Sales were: (first sale) 100 brls at $1.01; 50 brls, iron-bound, at $1.02; 100 brls do at $1.01; 100 brls do at $1.00. The market closed with buyers at $1.00 for iron-bound lots.

Lake freights were quiet and a shade easier, though not quotably lower. We note that canal rates from Buffalo to New York are again reduced, being now 10c on wheat. There is a fair supply of vessels here, and the relatively high prices of grain make shippers cautious about sending property East. A total of 6 grain charters was reported to-day, at 4c for wheat; 4½@4¾c for corn, and 3½c for oats by sail to Buffalo. Through rates to New York are 20c on wheat, and 19@19½c on corn.

Provisions were quiet and unchanged. There has not been a single new feature to note for a week past. Holders are firm in their views, and buyers in no hurry. Prices are as follows: Mess pork, $29.50@30.00, according to overweight; mess ordinary, $28.50@29.00; lard, 15¾c for summer, and 16@16¼c for winter-rendered lots, F., P. & Co.'s caddy do at 16¾@19c; bulk shoulders, 11¾@12c; summer lots do, 11½c; do Cumberlands, 13¾@13½c; do rough sides, 15c; do short ribs, 15¾@15½c; summer lots do are held at 11½c; do short clear, 15¾@15½c; bacon shoulders, 13¼@13½c packed; do clear rib, 16¾@16½c; do clear sides, 17¼c; greases, 7¾@8½c; tallow, 9@9½c, outside for choice. Sales were: 50 brls prime mess at $25.00; 25 tcs No. 1 lard at 15c; 5,000 lbs shoulders at 12¾c packed; 50 brls mess beef at $12.25.

A meagre business was transacted in the market for flour, and prices were easy at the reduction noted yesterday. The following were the reported transactions: White Winter Extras—100 brls "Pearl" (St. Louis) at $7.25; 60 brls not named at $7.00. Red Winter Extras—20 brls "Indiana" at $5.90. Unsound Winter Extras—100 brls not named at $6.50. Spring Extras—100 brls "D. W. & Co.'s Fancy Leaf" at $6.73; [illegible] Total, 1,600 brls. The following were the closing range of prices:

[illegible]

Wheat was quiet, and comparatively steady, at ½@¾c advance on the range of prices of yesterday's session, though easier than yesterday afternoon, till just at the close of the day. There is still a strong speculative demand, which comes from the country. The people there are scarcely speculating on the chances of failure in the crop of the United States, but many of them do seem to anticipate that the demand to supply the deficiencies of Europe will enhance prices here. The inquiry is principally for seller-deliverable next month, and kept up the market in spite of a reported decline of 1d in Liverpool, and of great quietness in New York. Seller July ranged on the Open Board at $1.17@1.20; opened on 'Change at $1.17¾, advanced to $1.18¾, fell to $1.17¾, [illegible]

Corn was moderately active, and steady at ¼@½c decline from the average of yesterday's prices. Cash No. 2 opened at 81½c, ruled steady through the greater part of the session, and closed steady at 81½@81¾c. [illegible] Total, 25,600 bu.

Oats were quiet and steady at yesterday's prices, at 49½c for No. 2 regular, and 50½c for do strictly fresh, closing firm at 49¾@50c, and 50½@50¾c. There was no apparent shipping demand, but some inquiry for home consumption, and a moderate request from the short interest for next month, seller July selling at 50½@51c, and closing at the outside. [illegible] Total, 98,200 bu.

Rye was active and 1c lower, the market being depressed by heavy offerings; it closed at 82@82½c for No. 2, and 70@75c for rejected. No. 1 was inactive. [illegible] Total, 19,200 bu.

Barley was dull and unchanged at 80@85c for No. 2, 56c for No. 3, and 43@45c for rejected. Sales were: 1,600 bu No. 3 at 56c; 2,000 bu Canada malt sold at $1.35.

The following were the daily sales of the leading breadstuffs in this market during the past week:

[illegible]

The following were the amounts of grain in store in this city on the evening of Saturday last, and at corresponding dates:

[illegible]

Groceries were in active demand, [illegible]

The butter market remains fairly active for choice grades, and firm at the advance noted last week. [illegible]

Eggs are in ample supply and were dull to-day at 15@15½c. [illegible]

Cheese is still in fair demand, and prices during the past week have been well sustained at 14@15c for New York, and 13@15c for Western factory, though there is less buoyancy to the market.

Anthracite coal was dropped 50c per ton on Wednesday last, and at the decline trade is fair and improving. Bituminous varieties remain steady and unchanged. We quote Lehigh, prepared, at $10.00@10.50; Lackawanna, $9.50; Erie and Briar Hill, $8.00, and Hocking Valley at $7.00.

The fish trade continues fairly active at about previous rates, the only change reported during the past week being a reduction of 25c in whitefish. [illegible]

Oils have undergone no material change, [illegible]

Reports to the Mark Lane Express, from the different counties of England, generally concur as to the absence of rain, and consequent damage to hay and many root crops, but they do not think that the wheat will suffer very much except on the light lands. It has rained freely in the north of Scotland, and the crops all promise well in that region.

LATER.

On the afternoon board wheat was excited over the news of additional purchases in New York on French account, and advanced to $1.21¼ seller July, but closed easier at $1.19½. Cash lots sold up to $1.18½, closing at $1.17@1.17¼, [illegible] Corn was quiet and unchanged at 81½c spot, and 83¾c seller July. Lake freights and provisions were lifeless. No evening session. From private advices we learn that ten cargoes of wheat were contracted for this afternoon, from New York to Havre.

SEA MOSS FARINE.

THE NEW FOOD SOURCE.

SEA MOSS FARINE.—This new and elegant preparation, made from Irish Moss, or Carrageen, is conceded to be the cheapest, healthiest and most delicious food in the world. As a delightful table dessert it has no equal, and is a light and delicate food for invalids and children. It is superior to all kindred preparations.

This new article of food has everywhere won "golden opinions" of all sorts of people, and the housekeepers of the land generally regard it in the double light of a staple necessary and a delicious luxury, for while it lessens the expense of living, the exquisite dishes prepared from it cannot be obtained even at an extravagant cost from any other source. For twenty-five cents you can buy a package which will make sixteen quarts of Blanc Mange, and a like quantity of Puddings, Custards, Creams, Charlotte Russe, &c.

RAND SEA MOSS FARINE CO., 53 Park Place, N. Y.

THE GREAT Spring & Summer Tonic.

Medical treatment has been revolutionized, and at last the discovery has been made that RENOVATION, NOT PROSTRATION, IS THE TRUE MEDICAL PHILOSOPHY. The introduction of PLANTATION BITTERS, prepared with pure St. Croix Rum and Calisaya Bark, opened the eyes of the world to this great fact. The life-sustaining principle embodied in this great Vegetable Restorative is manifested in the weak and desponding by an immediate and most encouraging change. If the appetite has failed, it is quickened; if digestion has been painful and imperfect it becomes easy and thorough; if the liver is torpid, it is roused and regulated; if the nerves are relaxed, they are strengthened and restrung; if the brain has been haunted by morbid fancies, they are put to flight, and hope and cheerfulness return. In the face of the extraordinary cures of general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation and mental despondency, wrought by Plantation Bitters, no practitioner not in league with death and the undertaker could persist in it. The terrible evacuants which were once prescribed as Spring and Summer medicines have utterly lost their prestige. The sick will not take them, and Plantation Bitters, in which are combined the elements of a stomachic, an invigorant, a mild laxative, a nervine, and an anti-bilious specific, reigns in their stead. Sold by all Druggists.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Raising Primary School Buildings—Washington School.

Change of Text Books—High School Admissions.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education was held yesterday evening. Present—Inspectors Bolden, Stone, Moore, Shackford, Runyan, Stephens, Carter, Schintz, Macalister, Briggs, Walsh, Barker, Wenzche, Wentworth, Meserve, Tully.

NEW SCHOOL-LOT.

Inspector Carter, from the Committee on Buildings and Grounds, submitted a report, asking further time for the consideration of the advisability of purchasing a lot at the corner of Shurtleff avenue and Thirtieth street.

Further time was granted.

FILLING.

Inspector Carter submitted a report from the same committee to the effect that the necessary amount of filling had been done on the Clark School and Mitchell Street Primary lots, and recommending that orders be placed on file.

The report was adopted.

SIDEWALK.

Inspector Carter, from the same committee, submitted a report to the effect that the curb wall on the Ohio street front of the Kinzie street lot had been laid, and recommending that the curb wall on the LaSalle street front be laid, in order that the sidewalk might be laid.

The report was adopted.

[illegible]

Inspector Carter, from the same committee, reported recommending that the proposition of I. Jenneson, to put up lightning rods on four schools at 30 cents per foot, be accepted.

The report was adopted.

NORTH MARKET HALL.

Inspector Carter, from the same committee, which had been instructed to see if the North Market Hall could be secured for school purposes, reported that it was leased to the German Musical Society until 1873.

FOURTH AVENUE SCHOOL.

Inspector Carter, from the same committee, reported that, some time last October, plans and specifications were submitted to the board from the Board of Public Works for the heating and ventilating of the Fourth avenue and Dearborn Street School houses, which were referred to the committee. No action had since been had upon them. It was important that measures should be taken at once to do this work. The committee recommended that the plans and specifications should be revised and perfected, as far as possible, and that the Board of Public Works be authorized to advertise for proposals to do the work at once.

The report was adopted.

RAISING PRIMARY BUILDINGS.

Inspector Carter, from the same committee, to which was referred the communication of the Superintendent, with regard to raising the primary buildings in the Cottage Grove, Wentworth avenue, and Walsh street Districts, so as to furnish additional room, reported that the opening of the new building on Forest avenue will afford all the room that is needed at present in the Cottage Grove district, wherefore it is recommended that the boundaries of the district be changed, so as to bring about this result. In the Wentworth avenue district the Board is paying for rental of buildings $600, and need for the present about 300 more seats. In the Walsh street District, we are paying $600, and need over 200 additional seats. The cost of raising these buildings would probably not exceed $4,000. It will be seen that the amount we are now paying for rented rooms in these two districts far exceeds the interest on the cost of raising the buildings. The additional room provided will be about what is required. The committee recommend that the Board of Public Works be authorized to contract, as soon as possible, for raising the buildings, and furnishing a good basement room in each of the buildings of the Wentworth avenue and Walsh street primaries.

The report was adopted.

FOREST AVENUE SCHOOL.

Inspector Carter, from the same committee to whom was referred resolutions of Inspector Stone relative to the roofs of the Forest avenue and Larrabee Street schools, reported that the board of the company was good, and it was now making preparations to renew the defective roofs.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL.

Inspector Carter, from the same committee, submitted plans for a new building, to be erected on a lot to be purchased for the Washington School. The building is four stories and a basement, 80 feet by 100. The estimated cost is nearly $57,000. It is a plain, substantial structure, modest in appearance, and well adapted for the purposes for which it is to be used.

A motion, by Inspector Schintz, to recommit the report, was lost.

A motion, by Inspector Stone, that it be laid over, was lost—yeas, 8; nays, 10.

After a long discussion relative to prices and plans, the merits of three and four story buildings, and the advisability of adhering to old plans,

On motion of Inspector Shackford, the matter was postponed until the next meeting. The Supply Agent was instructed to inform the board what pieces of schools he had in his possession.

FINANCE.

Inspector Briggs, from the Committee on Finance, reported that bills to the amount of $3,350 had been audited.

The report was concurred in, and the bills ordered paid.

SCHOOL BONDS.

The same committee submitted the reply of the Corporation Counsel to the inquiry whether school bonds must be sold prior to the adoption of the constitution to be salable, to the effect that no bond could be sold after the 8th of August next.

TEXT BOOKS.

That portion of the report of the Committee on Text Books and Course of Instruction which recommended the adoption of Thompson's writing books in the place of Payson, Dunton, & Scribner, and the consideration of which had been twice postponed, was taken up.

Inspector Macalister insisted that the new books were equal to those in use, and decidedly cheaper, making quite a saving to the children in the schools.

The report was not adopted—yeas, 9; nays, 8, as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Wentworth, Stevens, Tully, Walsh, Macalister, Richberg, Wenzche, Schintz, and Shackford—9.

Nays—Messrs. Carter, Stone, Barker, Holden, Briggs, Moore, Runyan, Meserve, and the President—9.

Inspector Holden moved that Anderson's Grammar and School History of the United States take the place of Seaver's Goodrich's History.

Inspector Macalister moved to amend by adopting Mr. Quackenbos' History.

The amendment was adopted—yeas, 10; nays, 8, as follows:

[illegible]

The motion as amended was adopted—yeas, 14; nays, 4—Moore, Runyan, Meserve, and Schintz.

Inspector Holden moved that the books be not introduced until some arrangement for even exchange be made before the 15th of August.

The motion was agreed to.

On motion of Inspector Runyan, it was ordered that when the board adjourns it be to meet on Friday evening.

ADMISSION TO THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Inspector Meserve, from the Committee on Rules and Regulations, offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That pupils be admitted to the High School who pass the required examination, and who have, or who shall have, reached 12 years of age on the 1st day of September next.

PARTIAL CERTIFICATES.

Inspector Moore submitted a report, recommending that partial certificates be given Mary E. Alny, Sarah W. Bigelow, Sarah J. Turner, Susan Payne, Laura N. Hyde, and Mary Hannam.

The report was adopted.

Inspector Moore also presented the resignation of M. A. Palmer, of the Newberry School, which was accepted.

MEDALS AND REWARDS.

Inspector Tully, from the Committee on Medals and Rewards, reported that fifty-five had been ordered.

SALARY.

Inspector Wentworth submitted a report from the Committee on Janitors, recommending that the salary of the Janitor of the Monroe Street Primary be fixed at $8 a week.

The report was adopted.

ACCEPTING PRESENTS.

Inspector Walsh offered the following as an amendment to Rule 30, relative to receiving presents:

Nor shall any teacher receive any present, purchased by contribution, from pupils, under penalty of immediate dismissal from service.

Inspector Macalister moved that the amendment be referred to the Committee on Rules and Regulations.

Inspector Schintz moved to lay the motion to refer on the table.

The motion was lost—yeas, 6; nays, 12.

The motion to refer was carried.

The board adjourned till Friday evening.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

Locomotive vs. Horse.

Some persons have great faith in horseflesh, especially if they own a specimen. They are ready to back it against time, or the wind, or a locomotive—especially a locomotive. This tendency to run a flesh and blood horse against the iron animal is quite prevalent, especially in the country. The driver of a wagon approaching a railroad crossing sees the train coming, and gets up a prompt race against the locomotive to see which will pass the crossing first. Ten chances to one the engine beats, and the driver narrowly escapes if his temerity is not punished with death. An instance of this occurred on the Milwaukee Road, yesterday, when a wagon was passing a crossing about three miles from the city limits. The train was going at a lightning pace, and the driver of the wagon, a German named William Whitehead, essayed to pass the crossing, but, just as he got across the rail, up came the dying monster and smashed the wagon, pitching the driver head foremost into the ditch. The horse was leaping up the road, badly frightened, and the train backed up to the scene of the accident. The unfortunate sufferer lay, moaning, senseless, and bloody, in the road, but was not seriously injured. He was put on the train and taken to [illegible] for treatment. His injuries will probably prove fatal. This should be a warning to people having a passion for racing with locomotives. Sporting men would bet two to one on a locomotive every time, and win, too.

Suicide.

Jacob Hassamer, a Hollander, committed suicide, last Thursday afternoon, in the town of Atchison. He was found hanging from one end of a rope, the other end of which was fastened to a tree in front of his residence. After adjusting the rope around his neck and jumping from the tree, he had lost hold of a branch of the tree. He had probably endeavored to hoist himself up so as to relieve his neck. The Coroner held an inquest and the jury rendered a verdict of "suicide." Deceased was a farmer and 48 years of age. No cause is assigned for his making away with himself.

Michigan University.

A largely attended meeting of graduates and friends of the Michigan University, Ann Arbor, was held at Parlor No. 1, Tremont House, last evening, for the purpose of taking measures to attend the twenty-fifth anniversary of that institution, which is to be held on Wednesday, the 29th inst. General C. T. Hobart was called to the chair, and S. B. Chandler, Esq., acted as secretary. [illegible] About twenty-five gentlemen signified their intention of attending the anniversary. Others, desiring to do so, were requested to meet, and are requested to make their intention known to Mr. S. B. Chandler, at the telegraph room, Court House.

Presentation.

Mr. George W. Cushing, master mechanic of the Northwestern Railroad machine shops in this city, was yesterday presented with a handsome testimonial by the employes of the company, on the occasion of his retiring from his position. The gift consisted of a valuable Jules Juergensen watch and heavy gold chain; a solid silver tea service of six pieces, and numerous smaller articles of sterling value. The presentation speech was made by William T. Bell, and was responded to by Mr. Cushing in a feeling manner. The articles, which are very handsome, were got up from the watch and jewelry establishment of Wendell & Hyman, No. 99 Lake street. This enterprising firm have become celebrated for the manufacture of fine silverware and the importation of fine watches.

Irish Immigrant Aid Movement.

The members of the St. Patrick's Society, and others interested in the movement initiated by the Irish Immigrant Aid Convention, held in St. Louis last October, are invited to attend a meeting on Thursday evening next, in the reception rooms of the Union Catholic Library Association, Monroe street, near corner of LaSalle. Dillon O'Brien, Esq., of Minnesota, will address those present on the prospects of the movement in the East, where he has spent much time of late in the interest of the convention.

Miscellaneous.

We learn that the officers of the Chicago & Illinois River Railroad Company have perfected their preliminary examination for the route of their road from Chicago to a point near Nauvoo, on the Mississippi River. Several towns along its line have already decided to vote liberally to its support. It is expected that the remaining towns will soon hold their elections, and, if the result is favorable, it will ensure the construction of another important railroad, from this city to the Mississippi, through the best agricultural portion of our State.

—A petition signed by nearly all the owners of property on South Clark street, asking the Common Council to prohibit the use of dummy in moving trains of cars on that street north of Twenty-second street, was presented to the Council at its last meeting. This seems to be a reasonable request, as the railroads now occupying that street have recently increased, and are now using the right of way granted them a hundred feet west of that street, and nearly all the property in South Chicago would be greatly benefited by relieving that street of the railroads.

—[illegible] on Monday night, he was assaulted by two men who sprang from behind a pile of boards, and robbed him of a watch worth $30. He had some money with him, but the thieves did not attempt to take it.

—The billiard hall of Charles Bowman, on West Madison street, was entered on Sunday night and four sets of billiard balls were stolen.

—There will be a meeting of the Athletic Club at 8 o'clock to-night, at their room. A full attendance is requested.

—The quarterly meeting of the Chicago Library Association will be held in the library, No. 50 LaSalle street, on Saturday, June 25, at 3 p.m. precisely.

ANTICIPATED CALAMITY.

A Probable Catastrophe at the Opera House.

How the DeLave Girls may Fall and be Shattered to Pieces.

[NOTE.—The catastrophe described below did not take place at the Opera House last evening, but as it will in all probability occur before the close of Zoe and Lila DeLave's engagement, our reporter has taken the trouble to describe the scene just as it will occur. It may serve to convey a delicious foretaste of the anticipated horror, and save labor.]

"The performance at the Opera House last evening was marked by an appalling calamity, which created an unutterable sensation of horror, and will darken the minds of all who witnessed it with ineffaceable and shuddering memories of one of the [illegible] ever been enacted on any stage. To record the sickening details of the scene is almost as painful as to have been a spectator of it, and it is with a feeling that we are inflicting a shock upon the entire community that we proceed to give a bare statement of the facts.

"At the close of the second act of the 'Green Huntsman,' the customary preparations were made for the trapeze performances of the two young girls, Zoe and Lila DeLave, and the usual nervous thrill of expectation went through the audience as the two youthful acrobats made their bow and proceeded to take their places. By those who sat nearest to the stage it was remarked that the elder of the two girls betrayed a nervousness of manner which boded ill for her success in the daring feats she was about to undertake. It is well known that she had on more than one occasion missed her grasp, and come near losing the frail hold upon life which her dangerous avocation entails. And the knowledge that it was at even under compulsion, sent much against her inclination, that she ever ascended to the cross-bar, had excited a profound pity for the poor creature whenever she appeared. On this occasion her countenance was paler than usual, and evinced a decided disinclination to the task, but she proceeded mechanically to ascend the rope to her dizzy elevation. Some undefined feeling of this kind was certainly communicated to the audience, for as the performance went on, the applause grew fainter and fainter, as if the spectators were too painfully absorbed in the spectacle to lend the performer the usual encouragement. Everything, however, seemed to go on with the same success as on previous evenings, and the two daring little acrobats were prepared for the crowning feat, which has already been described in our columns. The elder girl was hanging head down from the trapeze, which is suspended in the front of the stage, and extended her hands to receive the other, who was about to make her terrible flying leap from the third tier of the auditorium.

"For an instant there was a deep and breathless pause in the house, in which one might have heard a pin drop. A moment more and the girl was flying like a bird through the air. Then came a horrible shriek, followed by a dull, heavy crash [illegible]

"The scene at this moment was one which beggared all description. Women shrieked and fell fainting on the floor. Men jumped frantically over the seats and ran as if to hide the horrid thing from their sight. The ghastly figures of the two victims lay there, quivering in the last agony, and the actors, actresses and ballet girls, who had rushed from the dressing-rooms, stood round, transfixed with horror, as if they were gazing on some evil's head which had turned them into stone. Many of them were seized with hysterics, and one or two were carried away in a fainting fit.

"The wildest confusion and excitement prevailed in every part of the house, and as soon as it could be, to some extent, allayed, it was ascertained how the dreadful calamity had befallen. It was too easy, alas! to explain. The younger girl missed her aim, owing, perhaps, in some measure, to the nervousness of her sister, and came down with a fearful shriek and crash upon the floor of the stage, dashing her brains out, and breaking her limbs. The elder one, losing her presence of mind, relinquished her hold upon the cross-bar, and came down head first among the footlights. She seemed also to have been killed in an instant. There was a strong quivering of her limbs for a brief moment, and then all was over. The feelings of the man who has brought up these poor girls to this awful calling, may be better imagined than described. The bodies were covered with sheets, and carried away from the sight of the spectators."

EXTRAORDINARY MATCH FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

An Eastern exchange says: "A jumping match for five hundred dollars and the championship of America came off at Binghamton, New York, a day or two ago, and was witnessed by a large number of 'sports' and other admirers of athletic exercise. The contestants were Edward Searles, of Sing Sing, and Albert V. Hill, of Hinsdale. Both are men of considerable muscular ability, the former being six feet and one inch in height and weighing one hundred and forty pounds, while the latter is about five feet eight inches and kicks the beam at one hundred and sixty-one pounds. Hill, who was the favorite from the start, made the first jump and leaped eleven feet two and a half inches. Searles followed, clearing twelve feet one inch, which caused betting to become lively. Nor did his friends forget to smile when his next attempt carried him twelve feet five and a half inches from the toe-line. Searles then commenced business, and made the extraordinary jump of twelve feet six and one-fourth inches—using the jumping jack (spirit level) on record—beating Bob Way's best jump at Chicago, in July, 1867, which was twelve feet eight and one-fourth inches. Hill made several attempts to compete with his rival, but failed to exceed twelve feet six and three-fourths inches, after which he gave up and acknowledged his defeat.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

Defeat of the Buffalo Niagaras by the White Stockings—Score, 64 to 14.

Other Games Yesterday.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

BUFFALO, June 21.—The game of base ball between the Niagaras, of this city, and the White Stockings, of Chicago, came off here to-day, and was witnessed by 3,000 spectators. The Chicago boys were in such a "bunged-up" condition that it was not considered that they would make a very creditable score. Owing to the condition of King's eye and Craver's hands, Cuthbert had to be substituted for catcher, while Flynn played second base in place of Wood, who was feeling a little under the weather. The grounds on which the game was played were not very favorable to a large score because of their narrow width and unevenness. Still, the Chicagos went to work, and, by main dint of superior batting, achieved a score of 64 to 14. Against the same club the Red Stockings last year made 42 to 14, and the Rockfords, a short time since, 44 to 13. The game was umpired to-day by Sam Holley, of Buffalo, in a fair and impartial manner. After the second inning the Niagaras were simply content to keep down the White Stockings' score as low as possible. The third inning, in which the Chicagos made eighteen runs, was a true test of the relative merits of the two clubs, and this number might have been added on each succeeding inning until the close of the game, but that, after the first few innings, the Chicago boys seemed to take things easy [illegible] terest in it. The 15 runs in the fifth inning placed the game so largely in their hands that they let the game go by default. [illegible] pitcher and catcher. Their batting of Meyerle's swift balls was very weak, the club only being credited with six first base hits on it runs, the balance being given to them on called balls by the umpire. Flynn particularly distinguished himself at second base, where in the sixth inning, he put three men out in one, [illegible] three order, by splendid infielding of short hits and throws to first base. The prettiest catch of the game was taken by King, who, on a dead run from center field, scooped up a knee ball at about one foot from the ground. The Niagaras received their defeat in good spirit, and seemed pleased to think that they had made so many runs. The following is —Anderson's Europeans beat a picked nine—38 to 15.

—Despatches will be received to-day at Foley's from the Philadelphia game.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

Destruction of Eight Houses on String Street—Loss, $10,000.

About half-past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon a pile of straw in the basement of a frame building, No. 107 String street, took fire from some unknown cause. Box No. 341 was turned, but it would not work, so Box No. 342, corner of Twenty-second and Lumber streets, several blocks away, was turned in. Owing to the delay in sending in the alarm, the flames had No. 107, and [illegible] buildings within their grasp before the arrival of the steamers. When the engines came upon the ground every effort was made to stay the progress of the fire, but eleven dwellings were destroyed before the firemen ceased working. Had there been an automatic box at No. 341, instead of the worthless crank box, only one or two would have been burned up.

No. 105 String street was owned and occupied by Joseph Nolan. Loss on building, $400; insured for $400 in the Equitable. Damage to furniture, $300; no insurance.

No. 105½ was owned and occupied by Henry B. Schultz. Loss on building and household goods, $800; insured for $450 in the Firemen's.

No. 107 was owned and occupied by Pat Connell. Loss on house and furniture, $2,000; insured for $1,100 in the Firemen's.

A house in the rear of No. 107, owned by Connell and occupied by Pat Nott, was also destroyed. Nott lost $50 in furniture, and has no insurance. The loss on the building is included in the $2,000 given above.

No. 109 was owned by Michael Fellon, and occupied by John Parks. Loss on house, $600; damage to Burke's household goods, $75; no insurance.

A frame house in the rear of 109, owned and occupied by Fellon, was badly damaged. Loss on it and on furniture, $1,000. Felon has a policy in the Ætna for $1,200.

No. 111 was owned by Godfrey Jenzel, and occupied by David Curran and E. McGraw. Loss on house, $400. Curran estimates his loss on furniture at $75. He has no insurance.

No. 113 was owned and occupied by Jenzel. His loss on this structure and on furniture is $600; insured for $1,200 on the former, and $600 on the latter.

No. 115 was owned and occupied by John Weiher. Loss, $25; insured for $800 in the Germania.

At ten minutes after 3 o'clock yesterday morning, a fire broke out in a shed in the rear of No. 207 North Wells street, occupied as a grocery store by William Spain. Adjacent to the store is the rear of No. 81 Hill street, the dwelling of Spain. His loss on stock and furniture is $250; insured for $1,500 in the Equitable. John Burke occupied the rear part of 251 Wells street, which was somewhat damaged. The building is owned by Henry Dodson. His loss is $200; insured for $3,000 in the Republic and $3,000 in the Equitable. Burke's furniture was damaged to the extent of $150; not insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

—The alarm from Box No. 279 at 10 o'clock last night was occasioned by fire in the building No. 198 West Madison street, owned by D. Cole, and occupied as a millinery establishment by Mrs. J. C. Stewart. Damage to stock, $500; insured. The origin of the fire is not known.

—Box No. 39 was struck at ten minutes of 9 o'clock last night for the burning of a pile of straw on the corner of Butterfield street and Archer avenue. No loss and no insurance. Some boys set the straw on fire.

AMUSEMENTS.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The bills at the various places of amusement remain unchanged. Lovers of the legitimate drama will find Dora and Farmer Allen and Lake Bloomfield still rehearsing the touching pastoral story at the Museum. Lovers of novelty cannot help being satisfied with the rope-walking, the juggling, the quaint and grotesque dances, and the pantomimes of the Lauri Troupe at the Dearborn Theatre. Those spectacularly inclined, or addicted to morbid curiosity, will find themselves gratified with "The Green Huntsman" and the thrilling feats of the child-trapezists at the Opera House. Those who want fun can have it at wholesale at the hands of Emerson's Minstrels, at McVicker's, with a shower of cats included. Beyond these announcements there is nothing new to note except the Russian Concert, which takes place on Friday evening, at Farwell Hall, and promises to be a novel sensation in the way of music.

Something New for Housekeepers.

A new system of preserving fruits and vegetables without cooking, has just been brought out, which should prove of great interest to housekeepers. Some very fine specimens are at present on exhibition at Booth's store, corner of Dearborn and Madison streets. They consist of various kinds of fruits and vegetables, put up by the Milford system, without being hermetically sealed or cooked, and for beauty and naturalness they are equal, if not superior, to anything of the kind hitherto produced. The system is a very simple one, and so easily worked that a child of 12 years could be taught to put up the fruit as successfully as an experienced fruit canner, there being no cooking or sealing hermetically needed. It makes fruit canning a pleasure instead of a task. The right to use this system may be procured by families by leaving orders at Mr. Booth's, where specimens can be seen, or by addressing S. D. Phillips, No. 27 Washington street, Chicago.

Grand Art Reception.

A very choice collection of paintings by home and foreign artists is now on exhibition at the art gallery of E. L. Brand, No. 28 Washington street. Among the prominent features of the collection are, the "Head Waters of the Platte," by Otis Weber; "Forest Scene," by Ford; Hilliard's "New York and Connecticut Valley Scenes;" "Trout Brook," "Pittsfield, Vt.," "Scene in New Hampshire," "Minnesota Falls," "The Blue Juniata," and "May Party," by P. Fishe Reed; and works by Kruseman, Paul Brown, Melrose, Howard, Windham, and Remington. The productions of Mr. Brand himself in the photographic art, form a highly attractive feature of the gallery. His pictures are admirable in their clearness and perfection of finish. A grand art reception will be given at the gallery on Thursday evening, which promises to be a very enjoyable affair.

The Babcock Extinguisher.

F. W. Farwell, Esq., Secretary:

DEAR SIR: About two weeks ago the Popham House, in this town, took fire in the roof. The roof was all ablaze for three or four feet around the chimney, and under the roof in the garret it was all on fire. Mr. Theo. Cowles took one of the Babcock Extinguishers, went up on the inside of the house, crawled up through a small scuttle, and handled the extinguisher after the fire, and about a minute the fire was all out. At the time the wind was blowing hard, and, it being very dry, if the fire had not been put out at once the whole town would have been in great danger of being burned. All are enthusiastic in their praises of the little Babcock. Yours truly,

L. S. AVERY,
President of Village Board.

NEW YORK.

The Beethoven Festival.

Peter Cooper's Indians.

Enterprises, Etc.

West Point.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, June 17.

I have attended the Beethoven Festival in the plank skating rink twice. It was a good deal like a mammoth Sabbath School with congregational singing; or, better yet, like a whole camp-meeting come in out of the rain into their biggest booth. As compared to the Peace Jubilee in Boston, all admit that the affair is inferior. The building is a sort of market house of plain planks, roofed by the use of wooden girders, and in the central and chief portions the people sit on a plane parquette, while there is a platform extending all round the sides, and at the far end a high stage gives seats to the chorus in the rear and on the flanks, while in the stage foreground is the orchestra. A high perch accommodates the leader of the orchestra, and through the open door at the side a battery of large brass Napoleons is seen drawn up on a vacant lot, which are fired by a practical youth wearing freckles and an auburn firelock, who forces his thumbs down upon the keys of a magnetic battery and detaches a spark to make the powder harmonious. The organ at the jubilee I could never hear going, and grew skeptical that it was a real, raging organ at all, but imagined it to be a sham thing of scantling and gilt. When one entered the big edifice and beheld the orchestra and the chorus at the further end, all laboring together, he supposed them to be tuning up merely, and was greatly discouraged to find that the enterprise of noise could rise no higher. Of seats there were plenty to be had; for only once or twice was the edifice filled, while the price of admission, two dollars for seats and one dollar for a walk around, had the effect of making the plank floors rattle with the perpetual tattle of restless feet. New York treated the entertainment in a semi-surly way, not being quite above the provincialism of disliking anything for its origin's sake, and having a notion that the whole thing was a Boston notion. Three-fifths of every audience was composed of smiling country people, above going to theatres, who were ready to be gladdened, and fickle to laugh and applaud. So that, to speak generously, the audience was always pleasant to look upon, so American like! So virtuous! So hearty and sympathetic! So convincing of the power of music to make people miscellaneously better and milder!

In truth, these great musical jubilees are legitimate outgrowths of our civilization, combining the German beer garden, the camp-meeting, the political stump, and congregational and school vocalism. Gilmore looked like a Boston school superintendent, blushing, precise, a little exquisite, with the chirp and good self-opinion of a man raised under the shadow of Faneuil Hall. His brass band is equal to all praise, and I studied the faces of his men narrowly to guess their nationality. I should say that one-third of them were Germans, another third of German New England descent, and a third pure Yankees. The female choruses were about two-thirds composed of New England church-going people, and the rest of German girls from New York. The male choristers were chiefly Germans. Germans led the orchestra alternately with Gilmore, and did it in that self-respecting, grave German way which makes a spectator believe both in the man and his music. About eight or twelve hundred people occupied the stage, and of these, perhaps, three hundred were fiddlers. The capacity of many instruments and voices to make a great noise is exaggerated in these concerts. If one comes to be stunned, he is disappointed, and the chief benefit in having so many people performing seemed to be the glow, the magnetism, and the force of a multitude all doing their best at the same thing, just as Congregational singing always had more vitality in it and more religion than the chanting of a few choristers. It occurred to me that the time was at hand when every city and large community would have its Gilmore and its jubilee, on precise days of the year, as the cities of the continent of Europe have their fixed annual fair days, and that the profits of the entertainment would not be paid to the choruses, but derived from them, each singer paying for the privilege of song. There were no people so happy at the Beethoven festival as those who sang, and I was told that most of them gave their services freely.

The "stars" of this fête were Parepa, La Franc, Brignoli, Kellogg, and Anna Bishop. The latter is now above 50, but she still sings with spirit and power, and the goodness and devotion of her life add to her professional efforts the faith and credulity of the listener, so essential to complete the sympathy of art. Brignoli is nervous and sensitive, and he shows the marks of an uncontrollable temper upon his otherwise handsome and intellectual face, but his soft, mellow, exquisite notes seem to have suffered no deterioration, and his long residence amongst us gives him the license and the popularity of which not even himself can rob himself. I remember him as he first appeared in this country, the Apollo of the opera in all but motion; for he is singularly ungraceful with his feet, and as I thought over the errors, the disappointments, the tantalizations, and mortifications of professional life such as his, a feeling of respect and sad pity mingled with my delight of listening to him sweep the invisible flutes of the air. He sang very thoughtfully, like one anxious to please, and I preferred him as an intellectual study to his dashing young rival, La Franc, who vaulted into the highest altos of Gounod, and shot into the heavens like a wild bird, rioting in voice and beautiful mischief.

But Parepa was the very Muse of song, the lyric Goddess, in shape and faculty, the fountain and reservoir of sound, and the chorus, the orchestra, the very cannons deferred to her power. Her voice could be heard above the battle of strings and viols, ringing like a bugle, and it called for the sympathy nor encouragement, but conquered by conscious supremacy. The tenderness, the attention, the curiosity which had deferred to her rivals, relaxed when she unclasped her lips, and, like the wish of Archimedes, moved the world. Everybody flung up arms, hats, and huzzas, and the brass cannons bellowed their approval.

Such seemed to me the festival in honor of Beethoven, who was born one hundred years ago, on the banks of the Rhine, astonished and embittered his contemporaries by his genius, and then retired into perfect deafness, perfect seclusion, perfect solitude for nearly a score of years, the slave and the master of his one mighty faculty, the victim of his gift, the vestal to his fame. It was a high and solemn thing to see his portrait looking down upon all those strings, lips, and reeds consigning his symphonies to the second century, and those thousand musicians making gladness that he had lived.

OTHER SHOWS.

I was at the Fisk's Grand Opera House on Tuesday night when Red Cloud's band entered, twenty or thirty in number. The renowned Chief sat in a private box, and followed the performance for an hour. He looked to me like a yellow Mustang pony, his nose being long and with equine nostrils, and he watched the piece in a pleased, criticising, yet semi-sensual way, his braves and squaws meantime sitting in another part of the house. Fisk was not present, but I saw him on Monday night at the other theatre he controls—Daly's, or the Fifth Avenue. On Thursday at noon Red Cloud's band held a reception and speechmaking at the Cooper Institute, and were regaled by old Peter Cooper himself, an eccentric humanitarian who corresponds to the account of Sterne:

"He could unmoved a hungry Christian pass,
To shed his tears upon a dying ass."

I have little doubt, from all that I could gain, that the public sentiment of New York is in sympathy with the Indians. Secretary Cox, holding to the present Indian policy, carries with him most of the administration influence, and this showing of the Indians through the great cities of the East gives them opportunities to be lionized and to reach vast multitudes with their pathetic speeches.

I came in contact, however, with a squad of Western men at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, who were committed to the Cox policy on the Indian question, without being able to grow enthusiastic about it. These informed me that Governor McCook, of Colorado, and Governor Campbell, of Wyoming, had been already summoned to Washington to confer upon the threatening position of things; that both Governors had expressed grave doubts as to the Indian character being fair and stable enough to accept itself well in matters of treaty, and that McCook had offered to accept the tender of the Utes to thrash the predatory Arrapahoes, but had been rebuked from Washington. The Utes were desperately flogged by the government some two years ago, and they are now getting over their fright and showing insolence.

Two theories are broached as to Red Cloud's position; one that he is in favor of peace, because he is growing weak in his tribe, the young warriors feeling impatient to go horse stealing and scalp-hunting; a second theory being that Red Cloud wants to hasten home to take advantage of a full moon, and go on a long raid. At Red Cloud's speech before the Indian Commissioner, at Washington, he said, pointing to a negro usher:

"Feel my hair! My hair is straight. It is not like that man's. His hair is not straight. It curls. I can't work like that man. I am no such a man as he is."

The negro was not flattered by this argumentum ad hominem, and thinks of appealing to Mr. Sumner. Mr. Peter Cooper, and the gentlemen associated with him, are stirring up public sentiment in the East to hold the frontiersmen responsible for any Indian troubles which may occur this summer and fall. With humanity on the rampage and Red Cloud on the war-path, the Indian problem seems coming to a head.

Speaking of theatres and shows, as I began, the French stage has been fairly transferred to New York, not in its grotesque opera bouffe forms, but as Victorien Sardou and the prose writers make it; a style to suit old sinners of the world and not merely to agitate young boys; a stage of American actresses rendering with all ability the social civilization of living France. The first play of this school, "Frou-Frou," you have, probably, had in Chicago already; the story of a petted girl growing jealous of her sister and rushing into the arms of a paramour, who is properly shot, to nobody's detriment. The second piece is altogether more effective and equally nasty. A young girl snatched from fealty to a set-of gamblers, is married by a jealous Marchioness to her recreant rival lover for the purpose of revenge. And then his sensitive yet callous soul is stirred to despair by the exposure that his new wife is vile as himself, and so the Marchioness be seduced. To make this particularly Frenchy, the wronged Marchioness is cowered by her spirited men-cousin to let her rival get the lover. [illegible]

[illegible] is the brother of a newly-elected Tammany Hall Judge, and the son-in-law of St. Paul, a theatre manager.

Fisk is having regular Sabbath evening concerts at his Opera House, with music from Hahnemann Offenbach incongruously. They are very successful, while his show of the Temptations is about run out.

MISCELLANY.

Mr. Mahlon H. Sands, Secretary of the Free Trade League, is to start to New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Newfoundland, in his yacht, next week. He is a fine sailor, has a crew of seven men, and carries several guests.

I rode on the "L," or elevated railway, yesterday, and see no reason to be nervous. Two accidents have happened upon it, but none of them may be said to have been [illegible] contrived, forty tons of [illegible] per hour, or the weight of 400 men having been sent in a car never holding more than fifty men; the other accident was caused by a nervous conductor. As a general rule, I look on the "L" side of things, and bet with the party of enterprise and hope, and I would not be afraid to ride over this road the year round.

The greatest edifices now rising to importance in New York are: 1. The East River bridge, where they appear to be working for a "foil," and not upon one—that is, waiting to see how much the State and City Treasury will shell out. Still the caissons is in place, and the foundations of the towers are being set, while there is seen in every shop window an enchanting French chromo view of the bridge and the two cities in bird's-eye perspective. 2. The great lodging house of A. T. Stewart on Fourth avenue, now rising up the second tier of windows. 3. The huge union depot of the Hudson River, Harlem and Boston Roads, probably the largest in America. 4. The Post Office, which has been "investigated," but apparently to very little purpose. Besides these, there are in course of elevation four large hotels, two of them on Broadway, to cost about $500,000 apiece.

Long Branch bids fair to be the political capital of the United States this summer, yet, to my mind, it is the least attractive spot on the sea side, beset with mosquitoes, and having few charms except those which money will buy. The President will take his own cottage there, and the poers of the realm will, of course, group round him.

I spent four hours, between steamboats, at West Point during the gala exercises of the early part of the week and inquired into the negro-cadet case. You have been reading that the white cadets pummelled and nicknamed the dark-colored applicants. It is undoubtedly true that the black boys got their share of the annoyance common to the inhabitant lads of the Military Academy, but civilians are no judges of such things. If you put your own white son in West Point the boys already there will bully him a great deal more; for the academy is a place where chivalry and fisticuffs cultivate those things, the cadets starting in with the supposition that soldiering is a profession of death, they cannot too soon get over the fear of a black eye and an inflamed spirit. But nobody has struck any negro, and no negro has howled aloud. The outcry has been made by some politicians and some of Mr. Peter Cooper's humanitarians. Magnanimity is no part of the exercises at West Point, St. Cyr, Woolwich, or any other military academy. It is give and take, hit or miss, a hard school of life, and a poor place for sensitive young people, white or black, to go. Still I believe it to be an institution managed in the spirit of patriotism and war, aristocratic in the fact that it is a school of officers only, and while it will always have enemies by the very conditions of its existence, what better can we do while human nature is what it is? I believe the school, to be, all things considered, the best of the kind in the world, and I take notice that some of these legislators who are always decrying its anti-democratic spirit are not above selling cadetships in it to the highest bidder.

FRONTIER DEFENCE.

That Foolish Indian Scare—Letter from General Hancock to Governor Austin.

From the St. Paul Press, June 18.

We recently referred to the very groundless apprehensions excited among the raw settlers on our remote Western frontier, by the appearance of hunting parties of Chippewas and Sioux at various localities which they have been accustomed to visit for hunting purposes from time immemorial. But to the new settlers, fresh from Norway, or Germany, or elsewhere, the unwonted spectacle of these red men, habited in their strange garb, straggling about the woods and lakes with guns in their hands, and with the abrupt familiarity of Indian manners intruding into their domiciles, and, in an unknown tongue, interpreted by signs demanding something to eat, was full of terrible suggestiveness. They had heard of Indians massacring whole families, and they could only account for the appearance of these uncouth visitants on the theory that they had come on an errand of murder and rapine. Of course there was not the slightest ground for the apprehensions thus excited in the bosoms of these unsophisticated emigrants. These Indians are perfectly friendly and harmless, have always lived in the country, and are simply engaged in their regular visits to their old haunts. They may steal a little, but not the slightest danger is to be apprehended from them. However, the appearance of small parties on their old hunting grounds occasioned something like a panic, and the rumor spread over the whole frontier, gathering as it went, till at last, in a great many localities, the settlers began to believe that the Indians were going to make a raid on our frontier. In this state of mind they sent to Governor Austin for arms and other protection from the supposed danger. The Governor, in order to reassure them, sent some arms to the localities which deemed themselves exposed to danger from this imaginary enemy, and recommended local organizations for defence, not as necessary at all, but as serving to give the sense of security which seemed to be wanting.

General Hancock was absent at the time; but when he returned, a few days ago, he addressed the following letter to Governor Austin, in reply to a communication of the latter covering a request from the settlers of Lyon County for military protection. This letter will show our frontier readers that General Hancock has no force at his disposal for a frontier guard, other than those scattered in the various frontier posts, barely sufficient to man them; and if there chooses to indulge the fancy that they are threatened with an Indian raid from the peaceful and friendly Sioux of Dakota, it will be necessary to organize for their own defence:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF DAKOTA,
ST. PAUL, Minn., June 15, 1870.

His Excellency Horace Austin, Governor of Minnesota:

GOVERNOR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 8th inst., enclosing a letter to you from the settlers of Lyon County, of Lyon, Minn., asking that troops may be sent to that part of the country for protection against threatened Indian outbreaks, &c.

Owing to my absence on the Missouri River, your communication did not reach me until after my return to St. Paul, which will account for the delay in replying thereto.

I will direct the commanding officer of Fort Wadsworth to examine into the condition of Indian affairs at Lake Traverse, and send a patrol there if necessary, to ascertain if there be any just ground of alarm as to the attitude of the Indians referred to.

I asked for a squadron of cavalry last winter, to be placed at Fort Totten, and also some cavalry for the Missouri River as a precaution against possible Indian difficulties on this Western frontier. The authorities could not furnish me these troops and have so notified me.

I have but a very small force east of the Missouri River, scattered between Forts Ripley, Wadsworth, Ransom, Totten, and Pembina, with a few men at Fort Abercrombie, all told not more than 431 men for duty at this time. Mail parties, escorts, trains, &c., are continually passing between these frontier posts, which furnish the only patrols I have the force at hand to make. I have a few serviceable horses (not to exceed twenty at any post) for such duties, and they are thus engaged. I can accomplish nothing more with the force at my disposal than is being done at present.

I shall represent to the government the state of affairs represented by you in your communication, and if more troops are made disposable for this frontier, will encamp, at proper points, such a number as will give confidence to the settlers in the region of country you refer to. I am, Governor, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
Major General U. S. A. Commanding.

POLITICAL.

Ex-Senator T. L. Clingman, of North Carolina, denies that he has "gone over to the Republican party."

—William A. Graham, who was a candidate for Vice President in 1852, on the Scott ticket, was recently nominated for the State Senate of North Carolina, but declined.

—Luke Lee, a well-known Tennessean, who was beaten for Governor of Mississippi, in 1852, by General Quitman, recently returned to Mississippi, and has been appointed a District Attorney by Governor Alcorn.

—The Rev. Mrs. Hanaford spoke for about an hour to the Representatives of Connecticut in behalf of female suffrage, and the measure was immediately thereafter negatived.

—The Cincinnati Enquirer, the leading Democratic paper in Ohio, declares that "a large, and perhaps controlling, section" of the Democratic party in Ohio, and the West, "are for open and undisguised repudiation;" and that the silence of the Ohio platform upon the subject is the result of a compromise between the open repudiators and the followers of Pendleton, who approach the same result by a more circuitous route.

—The Bloomington Pantagraph says: "It is reported in medical works that an officer who had been struck in the head during battle at the moment of giving a command, became senseless; and, three years after, when an operation was performed on his cranium, he suddenly sprang up, and, beginning where he had left off, finished his command! The Quincy Herald has just performed a similar wonderful feat upon 'Old "Dick" Richardson,' once the leading pro-slavery Democrat of Illinois. The last word he said when the rebellion knocked him in the head was 'Nigger.' And he has not uttered a word since, until the Herald roused him a few days since, when he immediately sprang up, and beginning where he had left off ten years ago, shouted 'Nigger!'"

—In the last number of the Shawneetown (Ill.) Mercury, appears a card from its editor, D. W. Lusk, in which he says: "With the view of carrying out a resolution formed over a year ago, we this day withdraw our paper from the political arena. Through nine long years we have battled zealously for the success of the principles of the Republican party, and now that we have seen the measures for which we battled triumphant, we step aside to pursue a more retired and less onerous line of duty, with no less devotion to those principles than when we first espoused them. In the future our paper will be independent in all things."

—The Republican Senatorial Convention for the First District of Illinois, was held in Shawneetown on the 14th inst. D. T. Linegar was nominated for Senator under the present constitution, and Jos. J. Castles for the same position under the proposed constitution.

—The Green County (Ill.) Democratic Convention nominated Thomas H. Boyd for Representative, F. M. Bell for Sheriff, and Henry J. Marsh for Coroner. The delegates to the Congressional Convention were instructed to vote for D. W. Woodson.

—At the Republican Convention for Livingston County, Ill., held on the 15th instant, Congressional delegates were chosen favorable to the nomination of Mr. Cullom. The vote in the convention stood: S. M. Cullom, 30; Judge Parks, 4; J. W. Strevell, 2.

WASHINGTON.

The Tariff and Tax Bill Considered in the Senate.

All the Sections Levying Special Taxes Cut Out.

A Hard Fight Expected on the Income Sections.

Monthly Report of the Commissioner of Agriculture.

Butler and Farnsworth Have Another Exciting Dialogue in the House.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

THE TAX AND TARIFF BILL IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—The tax and tariff bill is likely to occupy the attention of the Senate all the week at least, perhaps longer. The debate has finally opened, but nothing more. All the sections levying special and license taxes were cut out in accordance with the recommendation of the Finance Committee. Messrs. Sumner, Conkling, and Corbett attacked the income section with force, and demanded the total abolition of that tax. The issue is whether it shall be retained and certain tariff rates reduced, or whether the duties on tea, coffee, sugar, &c., shall be kept where they now are, and the income tax will be abolished. Mr. Sherman was the only one to-day who advocated the retention of the tax, and he said if it was thrown over the bill would have to be recommitted. It is yet impossible to say what will be done by the Senate.

PROPOSED INTERNAL REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

The Internal Revenue bill, to-day reported from the Ways and Means Committee, is the second part of the great bill brought over from last session, with such changes and modifications as the bureau and committee have agreed upon. It is of immense length, and relates solely to the administration of the bureau and revenue laws. The bureau is raised to a department, with a seat in the Cabinet, and the force of revenue officials is reduced to correspond with the reduction of taxes. The bill repeals all existing laws giving officers of the revenue fees and moities as informers, does away with the whole system of spies and detectives, and authorizes the appointment of twenty-five Assistant Supervisors. General Schenck said he should call it up next week, Wednesday, or as soon thereafter as possible, and request the House to pass it during the week. It does not seem at all probable that the Senate will get time to act on it this session. The provision making the bureau a separate department will encounter a good deal of opposition.

COMMITTEE REPORT IN CORRESPONDENT SMITH'S CASE.

Judge Poland made the report of his committee on expelling Scott Smith, correspondent, from the reporters' gallery. The report reviewed the case fairly and dispassionately, and thus concludes, with a practical and common sense view of the advanced position of the newspaper press and the relations of a free press to public men and public affairs. He claims that, while newspapers should exercise due care in publishing statements in regard to the reputations of persons in office, still, if there appears fair ground for the belief that wrong is being done, correspondents should be free to publish the matter in the interest of the people. The report, which is of considerable length, has been given to the printer. It concludes with a recommendation to lay the resolution of expulsion on the table.

FARNSWORTH VS. BUTLER.

Such a scene as Farnsworth's attack on Butler to-day in the House to-day, has not been witnessed in Congress for a long time. It came up on a proposition to pass the bill to extend Smith & Wesson's pistol patent, known as the bill for the relief of Rollin White, over the veto of the President. The Senate had previously carried it against the President by 43 to 11. The debate had been running on tolerably smooth for nearly an hour, when Butler rose and began to speak in favor of the extension. Farnsworth at once made a point of order that he was interested in the pending bill and should not be allowed to proceed. At this Butler, in his usual style of bluff, jerked out that that was false, and he would not be choked off by a man who ran a brand rather than to brains. Farnsworth retorted that a member might curse his board, but he could not come into the House and steal in the shadow of it. The Speaker, in spite of the general confusion, managed to decide that the rule applied to votes, not speeches. Mr. Farnsworth slowly advanced toward the desk and said, that as the member from Massachusetts had denied his statement that he was counsel in the case, he wished to have official document, which he asked to the desk, read to prove it. As the pages took them up they looked formidable, with the red ribbons and seal of one of the departments. There was suddenly a general quiet, and several expressed the hope that no one would object to the papers being read in a case of such gravity. Members from each side of the House crowded toward the centre, and the scene was a very animated one, considering the weather. [illegible] Speaker and Mr. Farnsworth to read the opinions on the propriety of reading the document. Meanwhile, Butler was charging around, moving like a crazy person than a statesman. It was part of the time almost choking with anger, and, at the same time, more thoroughly embarrassed than he has ever before appeared. It was evident to everybody that he was hit on a sore place, and was moreover much worried at the looks of the papers offered. At last, in the midst of the railings concerning the reading, he came quickly down to the Clerk's desk, got possession of the papers, hastily ran them over, got out of state, and seemed a little relieved. He then said that the reading of the document would show Farnsworth's statements to be false and malicious. The Illinois member then had them presented. They showed from this record of the Patent Office that Butler had, some time since, received a fee of $1,000 from White, and that he acknowledged his letter to the Patent Office, White's attorney. The reading caused great sensation. Butler at once claimed that the date showed the fee to have been given for preparing a brief in the case for the Supreme Court. At this point an attempt was made to have a vote, and Butler seemed anxious to get out that way, but Farnsworth opposed it, so as to get a further chance to speak. The House sided with the latter, and refused to second a call for the previous question; so Farnsworth got the floor. He went straight at Butler as if with an ax or cleaver, charged him with fraud, with falsehood, with rendering himself liable to prosecution for misdemeanor, in bringing his law fees on the floor, and his capacity of a member, and of being on one side in this case before he was retained, and paid on the other side as a member since, closing up with lines from Hudibras:

"Compounding sins he is inclined to,
By damning those he has no mind to."

Butler writhed terribly during this excoriation about the first time in his Congressional career, showing to all on the floor and in the galleries that he was hit in a very sensitive spot. Butler tried to answer by putting himself on high moral ground; that he had never brought private grievances before the House. He explained the fee by claiming that it was for his printed brief which he had used in the Supreme Court, and he appealed to fellow-members to say whether there was anything discreditable. Pointing in a sneering way at Farnsworth, he cried out: "Malice aided by weakness is infamy." During all Farnsworth's blow was that of a coward and an assassin. The speaker rapped him to order, but he repeated nearly the same words, and closed with a quotation from Shylock. This ended the hacking and hewing in the House. It is the general subject of talk throughout the city to-night.

SLIGHT CORRECTION.

In answer to the despatch of Treasurer Angier, of Georgia, that his charges against Governor Bullock have been sustained, a prominent member of the Legislature telegraphs here to-day that the contrary is true, and that while Bullock has been entirely cleared, developments against the Treasurer have excited much surprise in that community. The chances are that the case against him will be fully made out.

THE LONDON MISSION.

There is a report, which seems very well founded, in the circles that Motley will shortly be recalled from London.

THE SAN DOMINGO TREATY.

The San Domingo Committee does not get through with its reports as readily as it thought it might, and they again go over for two or three days, carrying the treaty with them. Senator Howard is drawing up that of the majority, and several others that of the minority. Hatch is supposed to be on his way home, but cannot reach here till early week after next. His testimony is not needed.

THE APPORTIONMENT BILL,

with the Senate amendment, was reached in the House this afternoon, and at once led to a fight, the Eastern men going against it and the Western men for it. A test question to lay it on the table was lost by 75 to 96, showing that it will pass with the increase to 300 members, if the strength on it can be kept together to-morrow.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 21.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Mr. SUMNER, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported favorably the bill to facilitate telegraph communication between the United States and the Bermuda Islands, and to authorize a direct submarine cable from the United States to Belgium.

Mr. WILLIAMS reported, with an amendment, the bill relative to the unlawful certification of checks by officers of National Banks.

RAILROAD BILL.

Mr. NYE called up the bill granting lands in aid of the construction of a railroad telegraph line from the States of Missouri and Arkansas to the Pacific coast by the southern route. The bill is known as the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad bill, and extends to that company right of way through the Indian Territory. The bill was discussed and laid aside.

THE TARIFF AND TAX BILL.

Mr. SHERMAN called up the bill to reduce internal taxes, etc. The amendments of the Finance Committee were considered. The first of the committee to strike out the first three sections imposing special taxes, was agreed to.

Mr. SHERMAN explained that the House had provided for keeping up a portion of the special taxes, while the Senate committee proposed to repeal all of them except on spirits, tobacco, and beer.

The next three sections of the bill, inserted by the committee in lieu of the part stricken out, were read. They provide for the repeal, after May 1, 1871, of all special taxes except those upon brewers, distilled spirits and tobacco; also that the several taxes on sales be repealed, except those as are now by law paid by stamps; also repealing the taxes on sales of leaf and manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, wines and liquors, and distilled spirits; also repealing the tax on articles in the schedule A, on special tax on banks, canals and gas; on legacies and successions; on passports and on gross receipts. The Senate amendments were agreed to, after October 1, 1870, no sums of money, or in payment of any debt for any sum of money, or in payment of any deposits, and also the stamp tax imposed in Schedule C, on canned and preserved fish; further, that no stamp shall be required upon the transfer or assignment of a mortgage, except when upon the transfer, [illegible] security. Also, that no person shall be allowed in purchase of proprietary stamps [illegible] place of manufacture, for foreign exportation, without payment of tax, or affixing of stamps, under such regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall prescribe.

Mr. SHERMAN offered a new section, which was amended by Mr. SAWYER, extending the time for the collection of taxes on certain instruments of writing executed in the late rebellious States, until June 1, 1870, making the penalty double the amount of the tax, and in no case less than $5.

The income tax sections were then discussed.

Mr. SHERMAN spoke in favor of the retention of the tax, and Mr. CORBETT against it.

The bill was laid over as unfinished business till Thursday.

RESOLUTION OF INQUIRY.

Mr. POMEROY offered a resolution requesting the President to transmit any communication and proposals he had received for constructing Iron steamships for the trans-Atlantic mail service, which was adopted.

Recess.

EVENING SESSION.

TEXAS PACIFIC RAILROAD BILL.

The Texas Pacific Railroad bill was up as a special order of the evening.

An amendment for a land grant to the Decatur, Aberdeen & Vicksburg Railroad was rejected, after discussion—20 to 26.

Mr. BUCKINGHAM moved an amendment striking out the provision for the speedy extinguishment by the government of the Indian land titles in the Indian Territory, which was adopted. Several Senators expressed their objections to the Indian lands reservations being so dealt with. Various amendments, including one to apply the provisions to other railroads, were withdrawn.

Mr. DRAKE, authorizing a branch of the Kansas Pacific Road southwardly from [illegible]

Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont, moved an amendment to railroads be built anywhere in any State, by anybody, and granting [illegible]

Some additional corporators were named.

Mr. NYE moved to substitute for the incorporators in the bill the names of John C. Fremont and a large number of others.

It was opposed by Mr. Howard, who spoke of the alleged frauds and extravagance of the proposals made by the agents of the Memphis & El Paso Railroad to the French people to induce them to purchase the company's bonds. [illegible]

Mr. TRUMBULL defended Fremont, who served his country too well to be associated with ingenuity on the frauds happened to be connected with the enterprise of a railroad.

Mr. HOWARD stated that the report made by himself as one of the Sub-Committee on Pacific Railroads to verify his statement.

Without concluding the bill the Senate, at a late hour [illegible] the bill was assigned specially for to-morrow evening.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

BRIDGE BILL PASSED.

The bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Missouri at Omaha and Council Bluffs passed, with an amendment to requiring the construction of spans 300 feet in width.

MINNESOTA LAND GRANT.

Mr. WILSON, of Minnesota, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill authorizing the State of Minnesota [illegible] support of the State University. Passed—96 to 61.

NEW REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Mr. SCHENCK, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported a bill establishing a Department of Taxes, to amend the collection of taxes, and to regulate the collection of internal taxes, which was ordered printed and made the special order for Wednesday next. The bill changes the Bureau of Internal Revenue into a department, the Commissioner at the head at $8,000 per annum. There is also to be an Assistant Commissioner at a salary of $4,000; five heads of divisions, salaries $3,000; ninety-five male and fifty female clerks, twenty-five Supervisors, salaries $3,000, and Assistant Supervisors, not exceeding twenty-five, at not over $2,500 per day. The bill also provides for Revenue Gaugers, Assessors and Collectors. The number of Assistant Assessors employed shall be reduced by the abolition of all offices heretofore required to the assessment of any taxes which have been abolished by law, and the Commissioner is further required to reduce the number of Assistant Assessors in proportion to any reduction of revenue or number of persons subject to taxation, which may be made hereafter by the repeal of any portion of the internal taxes. The bill reduces the expenses about one-third, repudiates entirely the system of informers, spies, moities, etc.

MASSACHUSETTS WAR CLAIM BILL.

Mr. Schenck's motion was agreed to.

The bill to pay the European and North American Railroad Co. $670,383 and interest due the States of Massachusetts and Maine on money expended in the war of 1812 was discussed and passed—103 to 62.

ANOTHER RAILROAD BILL.

Mr. VAN HORN introduced a bill to aid the construction of a narrow gauge railroad of railroad from a point on the Union Pacific Railroad, near Echo City, to the mouth of Cottonwood Canyon, Utah, which was referred.

CASE OF THE PATENT CORRESPONDENT.

Mr. POLAND, from select committee on the resolution for expulsion from the reporters' gallery of W. Scott Smith, correspondent of the New York Evening Post, made a report and asked that it be printed, and the resolution laid on the table.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

The House, on motion of Mr. SCHENCK, proceeded to business on the Speaker's table, and disposed thereof as follows:

Message from the Senate, requesting a conference Committee on the Currency bill. Agreed to.

A VETO RECONSIDERED.

Veto of the President of the bill for the renewal of the patent of Rollin White for improvement in pistols. In the discussion of which took place on the veto, and which was participated in by Messrs. WOOD, LAFLIN, HOAR, and KELLOGG in support of the veto, and by Messrs. JENCKES and BUTLER (Mass.) against it, an exciting scene occurred. [illegible] Mr. FARNSWORTH raising a point of order that the papers showed that Mr. Butler [illegible] Mr. BUTLER asserted that there was no such evidence.

Mr. FARNSWORTH affirmed that there was, and said it was contained in a communication of the Commissioner of Patents, which he had asked to have read at the Clerk's desk, but its reading had been objected to.

Mr. BUTLER. There is no such evidence; but let us have it and I have no objection.

Mr. FARNSWORTH. I insist on its being read.

Mr. BUTLER. The point between the gentleman and myself is that. He charged me in the House and that the fees [illegible]

Mr. FARNSWORTH. The statutes of the United States declare that a member of Congress who shall receive any fee for a matter pending before Congress, or in any of the departments, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [illegible] It is evidence that [illegible] voluntarily stated this to the Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. BUTLER (interrupting). I do not give way to be abused by a man who has been beaten in his district.

Mr. FARNSWORTH. That is a most extraordinary statement. [illegible]

[illegible]

Mr. FARNSWORTH insisted upon his point of order.

The SPEAKER directed the rule to be read, which directs that no member shall vote on any question in any event in which he is immediately or personally interested, and stated that if the rule is enforced in the [illegible] upon the question of voting. It was for the gentleman himself to decide on the point [illegible] The Chair would not be the Committee [illegible]
